What are the underlying causes of Jotun Paints (Europe) Ltd's gender pay gap?

All positions are assessed against the Korn Ferry grading system to determine salary. A majority of senior positions are occupied by men.

The majority of our workforce is employed in Production and Warehouse, with males taking all of these positions where shift allowance is paid in addition to base salary. Females are mainly employed in administrative positions.

What is Jotun Paints (Europe) Ltd doing to address its gender pay gap?

- Reviewing flexible working practices to allow employees to flex their hours, this would potentially increase the number of females applying for senior positions
- Review recruitment processes to ensure that adverts do not unintentionally exclude women from applying
- Promote shared parental leave/review the paternity leave policy, to balance the time out of the labour market and potential missed opportunities for positions.

I confirm that to my knowledge and understanding the data and information in this report is factually correct.
